Refresher Course on Big Data & Hadoop

Name of the event: Refresher Course on Big Data & Hadoop.
Date & Day: 11/02/2017, Saturday.
Time: 9.00 AM To 3:45 PM.
Venue: JIMS, Class-Room No:-202.
Resource Person: Mr. Yatish Abhale.
Event Coordinator: Prof. Leena Deshmukh.
No. of Participants:-8

Background and Introduction:-

Hadoop is an open-source framework that allows to store and process big data in a distributed environment across clusters. It is designed to scale up from single servers to thousands of machines. This refresher course provides a quick introduction to BigData, Map Reduce algorithm, and Hadoop Distributed File System.

Why Big Data?

Big data describes the large volume of data – both structured and unstructured – that inundates a business on a day-to-day basis. Big data is not just about data, rather it has become a complete subject, which involves various tools, techniques and frameworks.

Things which come under Big Data:-

Big data involves the data produced by different devices and applications. Some of the areas that come under the umbrella of Big Data are as:-

- Social Media Data.
- Stock Exchange Data.
- Search Engine Data.
- Transport Data.
- Medical Data.
- Banking Data.
- Education Data.
- Retail Data.
- Government Data and many more.

Audience:-

This course has been prepared for the faculties who aspire to learn the basics of Big Data using Hadoop Framework

Prerequisites:-

Before we start this course the Exposure to Core Java, database concepts, and any of the Linux operating system flavors are required.

Apart from University requirement, In this modern era of advancement we should know the emerging Technologies like hadoop and BigData. In order to prepare students ready for facing the industry.

Development of the Training Program:-

The co-ordination of the course was handed over to Prof. Leena Deshmukh, The course structure was discussed with the HOD Prof. Shweta Padale.

About the Course:-

This course was designed as 6 hours of classroom and hands on training, in which each session was of 3 Hrs.

About the Trainer:-

The trainer for the course was Mr. Yatish Abhale who is working with xento systems, Pune.

Course ContentsWhat is Big Data

- ✓ Introduction to Data Lake.
- ✓ Why do companies care for Big Data.
- ✓ What do we do out of Big Data
- ✓ Where did this data come from.

- ✓ Hadoop Timeline.
- ✓ Why Hadoop.
- ✓ Hadoop 1.X Architecture.
- ✓ Hadoop 1.X Core Components.
- ✓ Hadoop 1.X Job Process

Importance of HDFS

- ✓ HDFS Daemons
- ✓ Name Node
- ✓ Data Node
- ✓ Secondary Name Node
- ✓ Node Level Failure Handling in Hadoop 1.X

Hadoop 1.X labs

- ✓ Setting up a Pseudo Mode Hadoop Cluster
- ✓ Executing a sample Map Reduce Program
- ✓ Writing and Understanding Basic Map Reduce Program

Objectives of the Course:

Upon completion of this course, participants will be able to:-

- Understand fundamentals of Concepts in Big data and hadoop etc
- Understand fundamentals of Hadoop etc.
- Be able to use the HDFS file system, debug and run simple Java programs for hdfs.

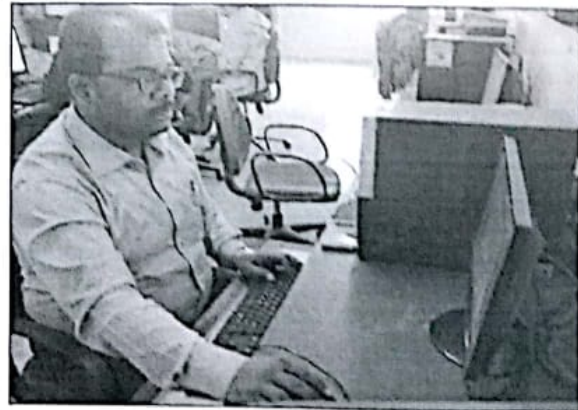

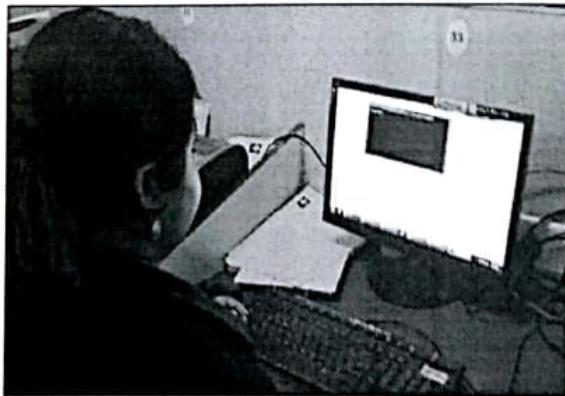

Outcome:

- ✓ Faculties were able to understand the application areas of Big Data.
- ✓ Faculty members had a rich exposure to various file systems in Big Data.

Introduction

In view of the changing scenario of the MBA & MCA education due to the developments in technology and requirements in the Industry. JSPMs Group of Institute had taken the timely measures and organized syllabus orientation program for MBA & MCA students.

Aim of Orientation Program

The orientation program put light on various aspects to be adapted in the teaching methodology of MBA & MCA course. Alternative teaching methods like case studies, presentations, group discussions, industrial visits and management games were discussed that would make the content more relevant to the current scenario and increase learning outcomes.

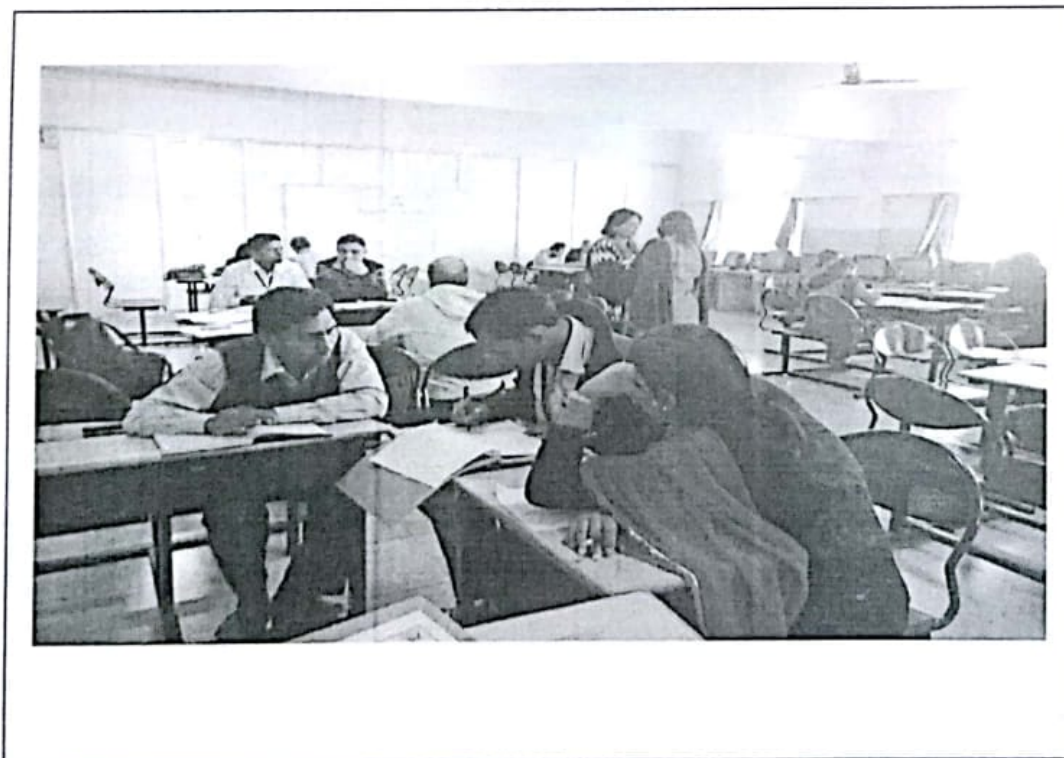

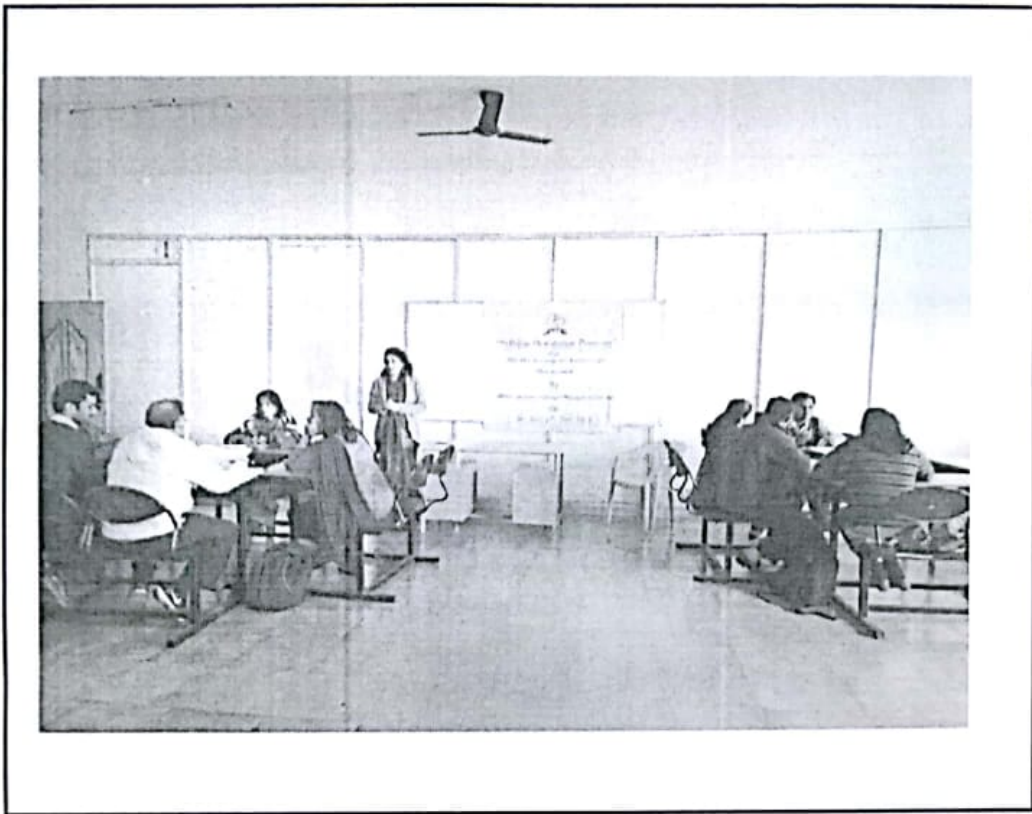

Schedule OF Program

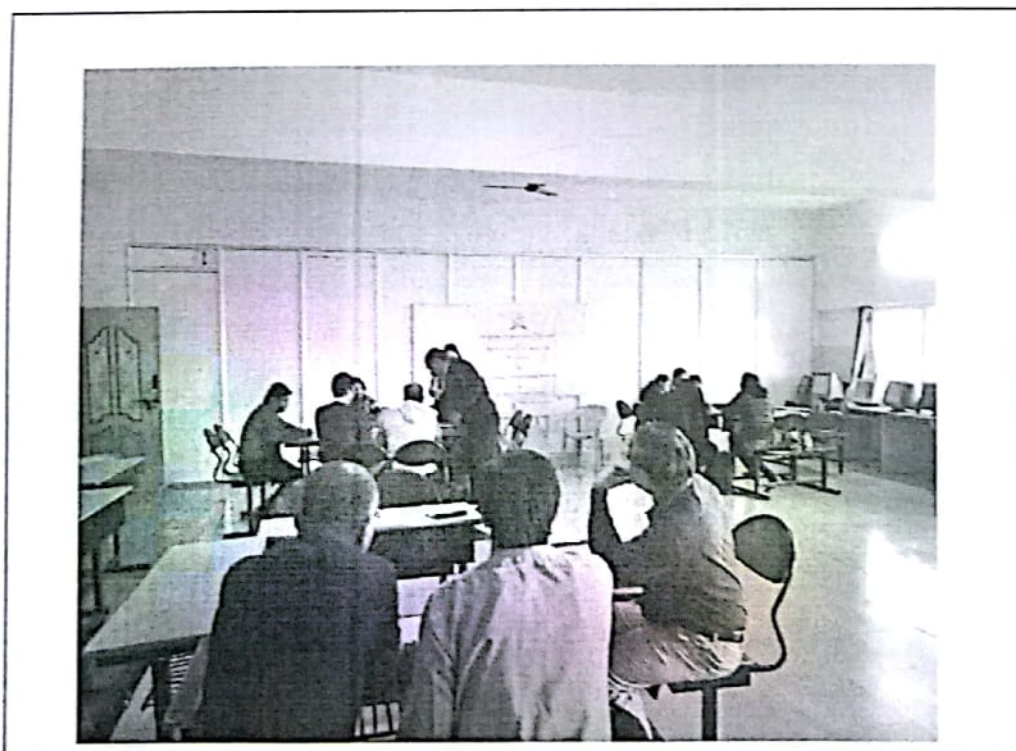

MBA-I Semester –II 10:30 am to 12:20pm

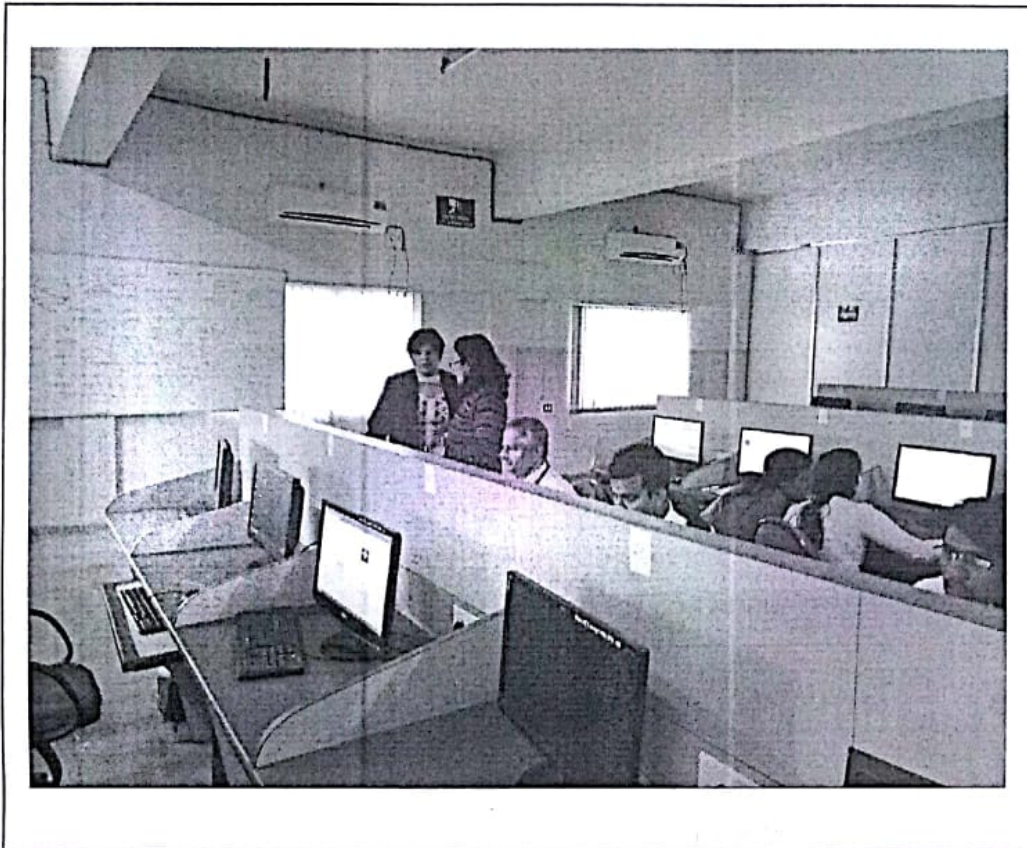

MBA-II Semester –IV 1:00 pm to 3:30pm

MCA –I Semester –II 10:30 am to 12:20pm

MCA –II Semester –IV 10:30 am to 12:20pm

Conclusion

Industrial visits are to be organized which will tell actual implementation of the concepts. Group assignments can be given so exchange of thoughts amongst students will be there. Some concepts can be more effectively worked out with the help of Case studies & students can develop the habit of solving the problems. Instead of using simple Power Point presentation it can be explained in a more dynamic way i.e. Video.

As the students use electronic gadgets more so use of these methods make the study more interesting.

Refresher Course on Good Programming Practice

Objectives:

- 1) The major focus of refresher course on several components of programming that can be applied in real-world projects.
- 2) This refresher course is designed to teach programming through small classroom projects

Venue: Syndicate Hall, JIMS "E" Building

Date & Time: 13th July 2016

Speaker: Ms. Bhagyashree Jogdand, Team Leader

Target Audience: MCA Faculty

Brief Report:

The course entitled Refresher Course on Good Programming Practice was organized on 13th July 2016 for MCA faculty. The main objective was to improve technical knowledge and teaching programming skill to the faculty.

The course focuses on how to teach programming subject by understanding the algorithm and then implementing the coding practice.

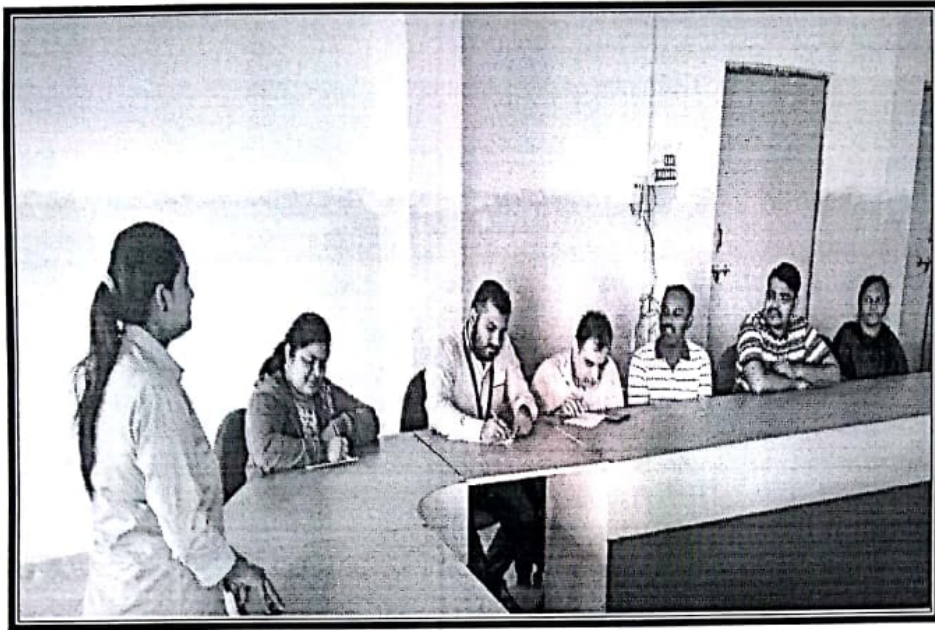

The suitable practical knowledge in teaching programming subject can be understood by demonstrating different small functions.

The refresher course is attended by 8 MCA Faculties. This refresher course was very fruitful and received overwhelming response from the participants.

Outcome:

1. Faculty members get aware of actual implementation of program in IT industry.
2. It gives insights about programming practices.

“Workshop on Moodle shift towards learning Management System”
On

Date: 1st July 2016

Conducted By

Prof. Rishikesh Deshmukh

Objectives: To train and enhance the Communication Skill of Non teaching employees of Jayawant Institute of Management Studies.

Venue: Lab 2nd Floor, JIMS “E” Building

Date & Time: 1st July. 2016; 10.30 am to 1.30 pm

Organized by : JSPM;s JIMS

No. of Participants: 22

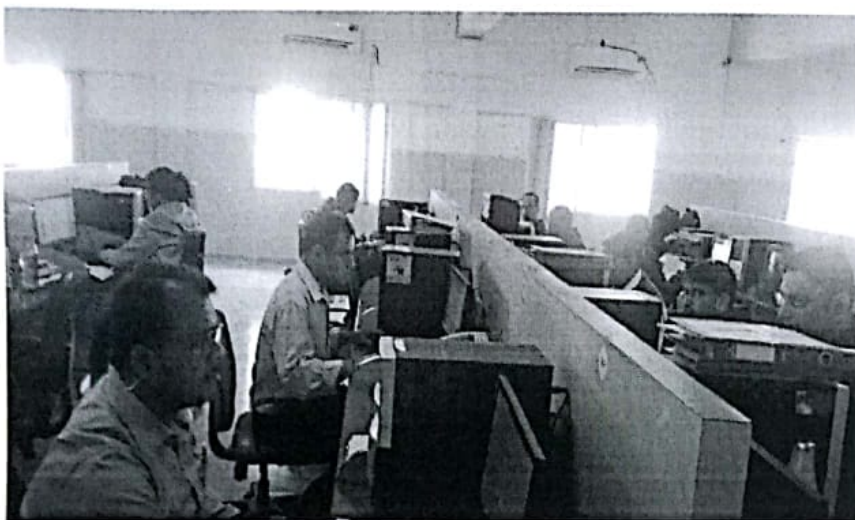

Brief Report: Prof. Rishikesh Deshmukh conducted the workshop and has emphasized on the benefits of Moodle Learning Management System as a flexible, open source, and free to download learning management solution. Moodle is a user-friendly eLearning platform that serves the learning and training needs of people from all types of organizations.

Moodle originated as a platform to provide faculties with the technology to provide online learning in personalized environments that foster interaction, inquiry and collaboration with the students In Moodle sites, faculties can create and deliver online courses so their respective students can meet and exceed their learning goals.

Prof. Rishikesh created separate ids for all the faculty members of JIMS and shown how to access the accounts and how to upload and modify the data. He also taught how to create quiz on moodle for MCQs and how to check the assignments on moodle.

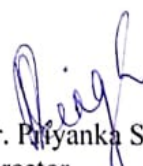

The workshop was attended by 22 faculty members of MBA & MCA departments. The workshop was beneficial to understand the importance of Moodle in teaching learning process.

Prof. Bipin Bankar, proposed the vote of thanks for conducting the workshop.

JIMS Faculties accessing the Moodle of JIMS

Outcome: After the workshop the faculties of JIMS understood the importance and use of Moodle in teaching the students and it helped them to share the Notes, PPTs, MCQs easily with the students any time.

“Planning & Assessment guidelines for MCA Track based Syllabus”

The Institute is also affiliated to Savitribai Phule Pune University (SPPU) and as such abides by all the rules and regulations pertaining to the syllabus stated by Board of Studies of SPPU. The basic objective of the education of the Masters programme in Computer Application (M.C.A) is to provide to the country a steady stream of the necessary knowledge, skills and foundation for acquiring a wide range of rewarding careers into the rapidly expanding world of the Information Technology.

The MCA Curriculum (AY 2015-18) is design in such a way that the curriculum should follow the International Accreditation standards specified by Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET)

The new Curricula would focus on learning aspect from four dimensions viz. Conceptual Learning, Skills Learning and Practical / Hands on with respect to four specialized tracks viz.

- 1. Software and Application Development
- 2. Infrastructure and Security Management
- 3. Information Management & Quality Control
- 4. Networking

Orientation program on “Planning & Assessment guidelines for MCA Track based Syllabus” was organized for MCA Staff Members to create awareness. The program was conducted between 27-4-2015 to 28-4-2015 at Seminar Hall.

A Report on BEST ADMINISTRATIVE PRACTICE: Guidance for Perfection

The system of governance has undergone drastic changes throughout the globe and its influence has come heavily on Indian institution too. In the ongoing process of the restructuring of the healthy relationship between administrative, non-teaching staff and college student becomes vital.

The details of Program are given below:

1. Name of the event: Hands on Training on Best Administrative Practice
2. Day & Date: Thursday 28/05/2015
3. Time: 9.30 AM To 4.00 PM
4. Venue: 1st Floor, MBA I Classroom
5. Participant: JIMS Admin and Non teaching staff
6. Resource Person: Prof. Mangesh Javkhedkar
7. Program Coordinator: Prof. Kumar Pawar
8. Total No. of Participant : 16

Objective of Training Program: To understand, work, engage, rich exchange of ideas and build healthy relationship at workplace of institute

About Session: A training program was conducted for the admin and non teaching staff of the institute by Prof. Mangesh Javkhedkar, Assistant Professor from Jayawant Institute of Management Studies. He has rich experience of teaching and banking.

Prof. Mangesh briefed the participant how institute should uphold healthy relation with teaching, management and student, creating positive environment, manage stress, lead to take decision, avoid loose talks, increase performance etc.

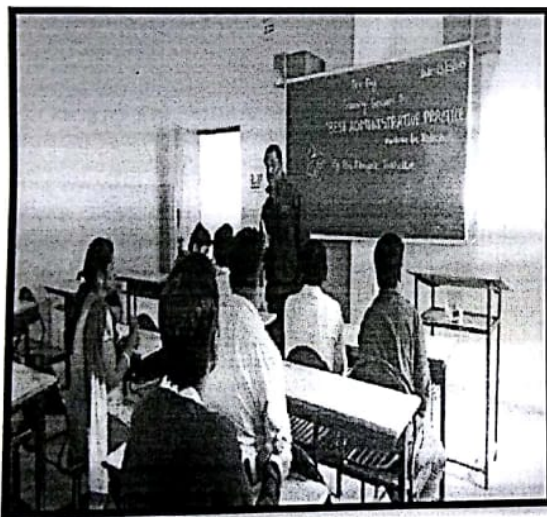

He also emphasis on following points:

- Patterns of service delivery within institute
- How to ensure effective and efficient information management and communication during the admission process
- How to improve administrative process and performance
- How to respond students, special needs of students, parent, teaching, management and external entities.
- How to deal with lack of support and stress and technological change
- How to transform self etc

Outcomes of the training: The training aims at enhancing interpersonal skill, communication skill, technical skills, stress management, leadership (handling situation) skill and understanding about effective institutional and management process.

Writing Quality Research Articles

Introduction:

The Institute always encourages the faculty members to write quality research papers, projects etc. It is very important to inculcate habit of executing quality Research work among the faculty members. To achieve the same a Refresher Course on "Writing Quality Research Articles" was organized at JIMS.

The details of Program are given below:

1. Date: 26/06/2015
2. Time: 9.30 AM To 12.30 PM
3. Venue: 1st Floor, MBA I Classroom
4. Resource Person: Dr. Ajay Kumar
5. Program Coordinator: Dr. Rasika Patil
6. Total No. of Participant : 11

Objectives of Training Program:

1. To know features of quality research article
2. To know the different techniques to write research articles

About Program: During this refresher course Dr. Ajay Kumar guided faculty members of our institute on how to write research article. He has more than 30 years of experience in teaching and research.

Dr. Ajay Kumar briefed the participant about following

- Features of quality research article
- Best method of collecting data
- How to write First draft
- Structure of a scientific paper
- Selecting a journal
- Submission of article
- Revision and galley proof

During session he motivated the faculty members for undertaking research projects from other agencies like BCUD. Dr. Ajay kumar projected some of his research articles for explaining the concept more effectively.

The session was concluded with vote of thanks proposed by Dr. Rasika Patil.

Workshop Report on UML Designing

Name of the event: One Day Workshop on UML Designing.

Date & Day: 08/08/2015, Saturday.

Time: 9.00 AM To 2:30 PM.

Venue: JIMS, Class-Room No:-202.

Resource Person: Mr. Kamal Pandey

Event Coordinator: Prof. Aditya Katkar

No. of Participants:- 7

Objective:-

- To give an insight about the object-oriented principles.
- To be aware about the essential and fundamental aspects of object oriented analysis and design, in terms of "how to use" it for the purpose of specifying and developing software.

A one day workshop on UML Designing was conducted on 8th August 2015, Saturday at JSPM's JIMS. The event started at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday and the speaker for the workshop was Mr. Kamal Pandey (Software Engineer, HCL Technologies).

The event started with a brief introduction about the speaker which was given by Prof. Aditya Katkar. Mr. Kamal Pandey started his session with a brief introduction about OOPS. In which he mentioned about the object oriented approach and its use.

He also gave some important concepts regarding the principles of Object-oriented Technology-

- Abstraction- Focus only on essentials, and only on those aspects needed in the given context.
- Encapsulation- To hide details of structure and implementation.
- Modularity- Decomposition of system into smaller and more manageable parts.
- Hierarchy- A ranking or ordering of abstractions on the basis of their complexity and responsibility. It includes Object Hierarchy and Inheritance Hierarchy.
- Polymorphism- It is the ability to hide multiple implementations behind a single interface.

After the introduction about object oriented technology he started with the Use Case Diagram and its uses in which he mentioned the functionality of a system by using Actors and Use Cases.

A continuation session on UML modeling was conducted in which he focused on the following topics along with their roles in a project.

- Sequence Diagram-A sequence diagram describes interactions among classes in terms of an "exchange of message over time". Sequence Diagrams provide a better correlation between the "dynamic view" of the system and "static view" held in Class Diagram.
- Class Diagram- Class Diagrams defines the basic building block of model namely types, classes and general material used to construct the full model. They describe the static structure of the system. They show existence of classes and their relationship which may be Generalization, Association, Aggregation, Composition or Dependency.
- Collaboration Diagram-It describes interactions among objects in terms of messages. It emphasizes on the organization of the objects that participate in the interaction.
- State Chart Diagram- It describes how the objects work. There are different parts of state like Name, Sub-states, State, Entry action, Exit action and Internal Activity.
- Component Diagram-It describes the organization of components, including source code, run-time code and executables. It gives the physical view of system in terms of implementation aspect. It constitutes the components, their interfaces and realizations and dependencies between components.
- Deployment Diagram- It depicts physical resources in a system including nodes, components and connections.

At the end of the session a Case study was given in which the above mentioned concepts were covered.

Outcome of the Event:-

- Faculties were able to practically apply software engineering methods, such as Object-oriented analysis and design methods with a clear emphasis on UML.
- To analyze and design software systems, components to meet desired needs.
- To use the graphical UML representation using tools, such as IBM's Rational Rose.

A REPORT ON
MBA & MCA
Syllabus Orientation Program
For JSPM's Group of Institute

On

6th August 2015

Organized by

JAYAWANT INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT STUDIES

TATHAWADE PUNE-33

Introduction-

In the changing scenario, with the development in business and technology, it becomes mandatory to improve the teaching content that would be compatible with the current industry scenario. Thus JIMS hosts Syllabus Orientation program, wherein faculties of different campuses (sister Institutes) gather to discuss the syllabus, lesson plan and other related points.

Objective of the Program

The objective of the program was to have detailed discussion on the subject topics and identify the gaps that may be covered during the lectures.

Brief-

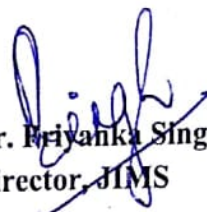

The program was conducted in the JIMS institute. The faculty members from different institutes were invited to discuss the subjects. The faculty members discussed the content of the subject in details. They discussed the lesson plan, identified gaps in the syllabus of various subjects, teaching methodology, name of reference books and websites.

Session Timing-

MBA I	9:30am to 12:30pm	MCA I	9:30am to 11:30am
MBA II	1:30am to 4 pm	MCA II	11:30am to 2:30pm
		MCA III	2:30 pm to 4pm

Conclusion-

- It was concluded that the students need to be given more exposure to the industry with maximizing the number of industrial visits
- Increasing the case study session for students, so that they get access to the real-world business challenges
- To improve situation handling skills of the students
- To optimize mini projects for students
- To take up more presentation activities so that students can overcome their stage fear and improve their presentation skills
- To arrange sessions for soft skills development of students

Objective:

This seminar was organized for all teaching staff members for their stress relief and to learn how to manage stress levels in day to day life.

Session on Stress management –

The Session on stress management was conducted for faculties of both MBA and MCA.

The session was conducted by Dr. Sheetal Punde. She described the various stresses faced by adults, she explained that our experience of what is considered "stressful" is created by our unique perceptions of what we encounter in life.

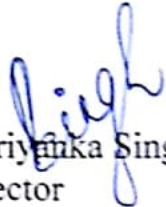

Dr. Sheetal also stated that person may experience headaches, while another may find stomach upset is a common reaction, and a third may experience any of a number of other symptoms. She explained that we all react to stress in our own ways, there is a long list of commonly experienced effects of stress that range from mild to life-threatening. Stress can affect immunity, which can impact virtually all areas of health. Stress can affect mood in many ways as well.

Dr. Sheetal explained different points related to stress management e.g. positive / negative stress, causes of stress (internal and external), impact of stress on human body and mind, consequences, remedies, ways to live life happily. Complete session was interactive in which faculties asked their doubts. After the session some faculties personally interacted with Dr. Punde. Faculties found this seminar helpful and inspiring.

“Best Practices for Success at workplace”

Training Session for Teaching and Non-Teaching staff members

A successful organisation is one in which individuals/employees are growing, learning and contributing to its overall goals. Fostering continual improvement through ongoing communication, information sharing, assessments and rewards can help both individuals and organisations progress towards their goals.

JIMS always focus on providing encouraging and supportive environment for staff members. For this various activities and sessions are organized that contributes to the career progression, personal and team morale, and professional success.

In line with same Training Session for Teaching and Non-Teaching staff members on “Best Practices for Success at workplace” was organized. The Guest speaker Ms. Bhagyashree Jogdand was invited.

Session Details:

1. Name of the event: Best Practices for Success at workplace
2. Date: 21/04/2014
3. Time: 9.30 AM To 12.30 PM
4. Venue: Class room No. 101, Ground floor
5. Participant: Teaching, Admin and Non teaching staff members of JIMS
6. Resource Person: Ms. Bhagyashree Jogdand, Vyom Labs Pvt. Ltd., Consultant
7. Program Coordinator: Prof. Shweta Padale
8. Total No. of Participant : 37

Objectives:

- To understand importance of interpersonal skills at workplace
- To understand how to build healthy relationship at workplace
- To know how to show social skills

About Session: A session was Teaching, admin and non teaching staff of the institute by Ms. Bhagyashree Jogdand, Consultant, Vyom Lab Pvt. Ltd. She has 5 years of experience in IT Industry.

Speaker focused on 5 Social Skills:

- 1. Empathy: To interact well with others, you must be able to understand how they are feeling. You need to express genuine concern for their issues, as well as helping to solve them.
 - 2. Cooperation: Cooperation is especially important when you work on a team, where you will be required to partner with others to reach a common goal. However, even if you do not work on a team, cooperation is still necessary on those occasions when you are asked to work alongside colleagues to help achieve the goals of your organization.
 - 3. Verbal and Written Communication: Verbal communication is the ability to express yourself using clear language that others can understand. You'll need solid verbal communication skills whenever you speak to others in person or on the phone. Written communication comes into play whenever you write an email, text, letter, report, or presentation – here, appropriate grammar, spelling, and format are necessary.
 - 4. Listening: Another important communication skill that helps you interact well with others is listening. You need to be able to listen carefully to what your employer tells you to do, to what your colleagues say in a meeting, and to what your employees ask of you. You must listen to clients' concerns, and express to them that you have understood them. People respond well to others when they feel they are being heard.
 - 5. Nonverbal Communication: While verbal communication is an important skill, so is nonverbal communication. Through your body language, eye contact, and facial expressions, you can express that you are an empathetic person who carefully listens to others.
- The session was ended with a tip “How to Show Your Social Skills”

Outcomes:

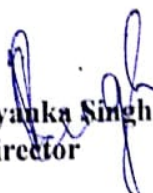

The session aims at enhancing social skill and understanding importance of these skills for success.

Report on One Day Faculty Development Programme at MTDC Karla

Objective :

A one-day faculty development –interaction trip was arranged on 24-August 2013 to MTDC Karla. Both MBA and MCA faculties. The trip was organized under the guidance of Dr. Priyanka Singh, Director of JIMS.

We all started from the J.I.M.S. Tathawade campus at 8.40 PM and reached MTDC Karla by 9.30 am . Prof. Bipin Bankar gave us the guidelines to be followed during the programme.

Breakfast was served at the venue. The program started with an inaugural speech by Dr. Priyanka Singh, Director JIMS. She explained the purpose of the program to the faculties.

The first session was addressed by Prof Shweta Padale. It was a Self Introduction of faculties where each faculty had to tell about Academic and Personal Details in short. The aim of the introduction round was to identify the strengths and the weakness of the faculty along with their unique qualities. Second session was conducted by Dr. Rasika Patil & Prof Harini Rajan where an activity was conducted with an emphasis on Team Building.

The third session was based on Group Dynamics. The team was divided into four groups and each group had to identify the vision and goals (short term and long term) for J.I.M.S.

At 1.00 PM the session was followed by Lunch.

We left MTDC Karla premises at 2.15 PM for the Karla Caves and Ekvira Devi Temple.

We reached the destination by 2.40 PM. Faculties had a good time in the caves and around the temple. It was a scenic beauty from the top which was refreshing for the mind, body and soul.

We all assembled back by 4.15 PM and were quiet ahead of the planned schedule. Due to surplus time left at our disposal we had an opportunity to visit Shirgaon 'Prati Shirdi' Temple (Replica of Sai Baba Mandir at Shirdi).

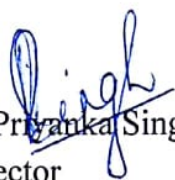

We left Shirgaon at 5.30 PM and reached JIMS Tathawade Campus back by 6.00 PM as per scheduled time.

Everything went as per the schedule and we faculties were looking forward to similar sessions in future also.
